Student numbers increase

Graduate school enrollment at Bloomsburg reached a record during the fall 1998 semester, thanks largely to successful off-campus programs.

According to the official 14-day report, graduate enrollment was 328 FTE (full-time equivalency), an increase of 10 percent over last fall's 293 FTE.

"The increased number of students in the graduate school is a reflection of the strength of our programs, and the efforts that faculty have made in making them accessible to students by offering courses off campus," says Dr. Pat Schloss, assistant vice president and dean of graduate studies and research.

Off-campus graduate programs include MBA courses offered in the Williamsport area and curriculum and foundations courses offered in Bucks County.

"These programs have increased by approximately 50 percent for the MBA and 40 percent for the Bucks County program to their present enrollment of 47 FTE and 17 FTE respectively," says Schloss.

The FTE enrollment for undergraduate students has risen from 6,522 in the fall of 1997 to 6,562 in the fall of 1998, an increase of less than one percent.

Total FTE is 6,891, up just over one percent from 6,815 FTE last year.

The 14-day enrollment figures are the official figures used to determine enrollment for the State System of Higher Education.

FTE is determined by dividing the total number of undergraduate credit hours scheduled by 15 and the total number of graduate credit hours by 12.

Library opening a major milestone

There were thanks all around, and a nod to the future, at the dedication of the new Harvey A. Andruss Library in September.

Welcoming Lt. Gov. Mark Schweiker to the podium, President Jessica Kozloff thanked him for his help in getting state funds released for the $41 million project.

"We would have had this library, but we would not have it today without the help of our wonderful alumnus, Mark Schweiker."

"When it came time to rally the campus, very few outworked your president," Schweiker responded. "I think she put this project over the top. We all know that this very special day doesn't come about by accident. Today, we not only dedicate a new library, we celebrate successful teamwork."

Schweiker also discussed the growing role of technology in education and the role that Andruss Library plays in providing that technology at Bloomsburg.

"Technology has changed the home and the workplace. That's why this new library has hundreds of computers," said Schweiker.

"It took television 30 years to reach 60 million homes. Today, internet connections, after three years, have reached 90 million homes. This competitive global economy waits for no one. (The library) gives students the tools they need to succeed in the new economy."

Other speakers at the ceremony included Dr. James McCormick, chancellor of the State System of Higher Education and president emeritus of Bloomsburg University; Elbert Alkire Jr., chair of the Bloomsburg University Foundation Board of Directors; Dr. Jack Malka '66, president of the Alumni Association; Dr. Roy Pointer, president of the faculty union; Dr. Daniel Vann, dean of library services; and Shelley Levan, president of the Community Government Association.

Well, we have had our 45th year reunion and the countdown for our 50th has begun. Make a note. It will be on Alumni Day 2003.

Attending the 45th were Erma Bean Sheats, Madge Felker Kile, Bob Haas, Herb Kercheiner, Theresa Charney Spiess, Joan Greco Fix, Larry Kasanznak, George Lambrinos, Doris Paternoster Wandishin, Nellie Swartz Byham, Bill Byham, Betsy Baer Schukis, Dan Boychuck, Charlie Brennan, Don Butler, Bill Hill, Alex Kuhik, Dave Linkchorst, John Scrimgeour, Russ Verhonsky and Mary Condon Gehringer.

With the help of Nancy Swartz Lychos '52 and Dolores Doyle Brennan '54, the classes of 1952 and 1954 were invited to join us, and there is no question that their inclusion made for a better get-together. There were 38 grads in attendance from the combined classes. There are so many friendships that involve the classes ahead and behind. Dolores is planning to invite 1953 and 1955 to the 1954 reunion next year.

Members in attendance from the Class of 1952 were Nancy Swartz Lychos, Dale Bennett, Dave Jenkins, Kitty Mitchell Boychuck, Bob Burns, Don Cesare, John Dietz and Nelson Kile.

In addition to the enjoyable meeting and talking with friends, the weekend was highlighted by the induction of Ross Verhousky into the Athletic Hall of Fame. Over a dozen from the combined 1952, 1953 and 1954 classes were there on Friday evening to see him receive his honor.

Those who toured the new Harvey A. Andruss Library came away very impressed. It is truly a wonderful and much-needed addition to the University.

The weather could not have been more spectacular for late October, so that made Saturday's Homecoming Parade and football game all the more enjoyable. Yes, the Huskies won the football game!

Make a commitment to the 50th in five short years, and keep in touch in the meantime. Use e-mail to contact John Scrimgeour (johns@sunlink.net), or by calling (570) 784-7120, or by writing to 695 Sawmill Road, Bloomsburg, PA 17815.

Chancellor briefs trustees

In a special presentation to the Bloomsburg University Council of Trustees, State System Chancellor James H. McCormick discussed changed in the structure of the Board of Governors and praised President Jessica Kozloff for the work she's done.

The new Board of Governors will move in a direction that empowers four committees "to do substantive work," said McCormick.

The university presidents will be involved in developing policy and providing leadership on the State System level. The chancellor also reported that a dozen systemic change groups have been formed to seek better ways to serve students.

Bloomsburg is represented on the Performance Indicator Task Force by President Kozloff; the funding formula group by Dr. Hugh McFadden, director of institutional planning, research and information management; the tuition group by Dr. Wilson Bradshaw, provost and vice president for academic affairs; and the facilities group by Tom Contos, assistant director of physical plant.

"We're going to make a good system even better in the spirit of continuous improvement," said McCormick.

Kozloff stresses student responsibilities with regard to alcohol, binge drinking

In her fall convocation address to freshmen, President Jessica Kozloff stressed the importance of students making responsible decisions, particularly with regard to alcohol. The part of her address dealing with this issue is excerpted below.

Socrates' Apology challenges us – as it challenged generations before us – to examine our lives, to question the values and principles that guide our existence.

We are beginning this academic year with an examination of these questions. You have read the Apology. You have reflected on its meaning. The text itself has challenged you to struggle with ideas, to wrestle with unfamiliar language and sentence structures.

That struggle is part of what education should be. You will be asked to struggle with many questions during your years with us. You will be given an enormous amount of freedom to make your own decisions. We want you to have that freedom so you can truly develop your own intellect, values and character. But I would ask you, as you exercise your own personal freedom during your collegiate life, to consider that you are also part of a community, and as such, you have certain responsibilities.

Let me conclude by giving you one example of personal decision-making that you may consider simply a personal choice, but one that has great significance on the rest of us.

This last spring we read about tragic deaths of students related to alcohol abuse, particularly the phenomenon more commonly known as "binge drinking." Indeed, we have had alcohol related tragedies here at Bloomsburg. I know there are those who look upon drinking escapades as simply a "rite of passage" to which all students are entitled. I would argue that no one is entitled to drink for the purpose of getting drunk – and in so doing, putting his or her own life at risk.

As a president, I have seen the self-inflicted consequences of such reckless behavior – harm to one's health or career plans – even death. It is hard for me to accept that you are "entitled" to harm yourself in this way.

We know that college binge drinking is related to a host of other problems, including disruption of innocent people's lives (ranging from noisy residence halls to damaged property) or actual injury to others. A recent Harvard study found that 26 percent of college women had experienced unwanted sexual advances or assault by those who had been drinking, and that 64 percent of all college students who had been assaulted reported that they or their attackers had been drinking or taking drugs shortly before the attack.

We should all be concerned by reports of students who feel their studying has been disrupted – indeed, sometimes their very lives have been disrupted – because of the actions of those who engage in reckless and irresponsible binge drinking. It is our expectation that as members of this community, you will consider the personal consequences of your actions and how those actions may affect others.

What do we pledge to you? I'm reminded that this week is the 35th anniversary of Martin Luther King's "I have a dream" speech. In that speech, he spoke of his dream where all qualified people – regardless of their race, sex or other characteristics – could fulfill their potential. We pledge that this is our commitment to you – that we want you to be successful, that there are people here who are devoting their professional lives to help you realize your dreams.

All of us want your collegiate experience to be one that is both enjoyable and challenging. We want you to have a full social life outside the classroom. These are, indeed, some of the very best years of your life. Your professors, the staff at this university and I want you to reach your dreams. That is why we are here.

You are a very, very talented group of individuals. You have the intelligence, energy, talent and idealism that this world badly needs. We pledge to work together as members of this community to make sure that our words and deeds create an environment where you can bloom – where you can fulfill your dreams.

Today, we invite you to continue your intellectual training, to participate in the academic tradition of this university. Today, you become part of this institution's proud history. But, more importantly, today you begin a journey that will create our future.

All of us – faculty, staff and administration – wish you great success in your years at Bloomsburg University.

Grimes Awards for 1998

Seventy-eight Bloomsburg University alumni have earned distinction as recipients of the 11th annual Richard "Burly" Grimes Loyalty Awards.

They earned this distinction in 1998 by attending a regional alumni event, by returning to campus for either Alumni Weekend or Homecoming, and by making a contribution to the Alumni Association or the Bloomsburg University Foundation.

Attending both Alumni Weekend and Homecoming can substitute for a regional alumni event, since the latter are not held in all areas every year.

The award honors Richard E. Grimes, a retired teacher from Harrisburg, who has missed only two Homecomings (1954 and 1998) and not a single Alumni Day since he graduated in 1949. He earned life-time status on the Alumni Board of Directors in 1994 after completing 14 years of service.

Physics students recognized by national office

The Bloomsburg University Chapter of Physics Students, advised by Christopher Bracikowski, has been recognized by the society's national office as an outstanding chapter in 1997-1998.

The distinction was based upon the chapter's "high standard of extracurricular professional development."

Students in the Bloomsburg chapter gave seven presentations at professional meetings and published three papers. Members provided tutoring four nights a week to physical science and introductory physics students and gave demonstrations to 75 Millville Elementary School children who visited the campus.

The organization also took four trips to industrial plants and laboratories.

ORCHESTRA CRUISE – When the Bloomsburg University-Community Orchestra cruised the western Caribbean last July, it turned out that Barbara J. Davis '82 was the cruise director. She is shown with Thomas Smink '83, a member of the orchestra. Another alumnus who played with the orchestra was Wes Kreitz '86 (above).

New scholarships honor alumni

Helen Arthur Gulley Scholarship in English – This memorial scholarship was created by Mrs. Gulley's two daughters, Ersene Gulley, a member of the English Department faculty at Bloomsburg University and Marilyn Wagner of Suffern, N.Y.

Gibb Foundation Scholarship – The Gibb Foundation, created under the terms of the will of Lorna Gibb, identifies, from year-to-year, different colleges to receive funds to be used for scholarship purposes. Bloomsburg University received a $7,500 grant.

Ellen Gray Davis '28

Matthew G. and Ellen P. Gray Scholarship Fund – Established through the estate of Ellen Gray Davis, Class of 1928, this endowed scholarship, in memory of her parents, will be awarded to students from Luzerne county who have financial need.

Contributions to these or any other scholarships are welcome at anytime. Checks should be made payable to The Bloomsburg University Foundation – Name of Scholarship.

Tuition raffle nets $17,400

Parents participating in this raffle benefited the general athletic fund and had an opportunity to win $1,750 – a semester's tuition. Holders of the winning ticket were Robert and Sharon Alexander of Wescosville. Their daughter, Kate, is a sophomore majoring in speech pathology and audiology. Nicole Giantomaso, a freshman from Abington, drew the winning ticket.

Three "Early Bird" winners of $250 each were drawn last summer. Mary Taubel Reider Estate Exceeds $300,000

Mary Taubel Reider, daughter of Mary A. Moore Taubel, bequeathed her estate to Bloomsburg University. A portion of the funds has been used to endow scholarships for history majors in memory of her mother. Additional funds were applied toward the construction of the new Harvey A. Andruss Library where the fourth floor was named for Mrs. Reider. Remaining funds are projected to be used to convert the old library to a student services center.

Bloomsburg leaders honored by State System

Two members of the Bloomsburg University family, Leonard Comerchero and Elbern H. Alkire Jr., were recognized by the Fund for the Advancement of the State System of Higher Education, Inc., for their contributions to Bloomsburg and the State System.

Chancellor James H. McCormick presented each with the first Eberly Medals for Philanthropy and Volunteerism.

"The recipients of these awards deserve much of the credit for the continuing success of our universities," McCormick said.

"The outstanding contributions they have made of both their resources and their talents have helped to make the State System of Higher Education one of the leading public university systems in the nation.

"We owe much to their proven commitment to public higher education."

The medal is named in honor of the Eberly family of Uniontown for its support of higher education statewide and nationally.

Comerchero, chief executive officer of Mulco Industries Inc. and the Mitrani Family Foundation of Bloomsburg, was honored for philanthropy. The Mitrani Family Foundation has supported a variety of programs at Bloomsburg, including scholarships, construction of the new library, and renovations to Mitrani Hall, named for Marco and Louise Mitrani.

Alkire, chair of the Bloomsburg University Foundation Board of Directors, was honored for volunteerism. He was recognized as an honorary alumnus in 1995 for his years of service to the university, which began in 1975 when he was appointed by Gov. Milton J. Shapp to a team to study the costs of higher education. Since then he has served on the Council of Trustees and as a founding member of the College of Business Advisory Board.

University makes list of top 100

Bloomsburg University has been named one of the 100 best public universities by Kiplinger's Personal Finance Magazine.

Based on statistics from 1,813 colleges and universities in North America, Kiplinger's ranked Bloomsburg 89th. The list was reduced to 200, based primarily on selectivity as evidenced by SAT scores of the 1997 freshman class and the percentage of applicants granted admission.

Those 200 were further reduced based on a formula that ranked quality only, taking into account graduation rates, the percentage of freshmen who return for their sophomore year, SAT scores, admission rates and computer and library resources.

The final 100 were then sorted on those quality measures, plus five financial factors: total cost, cost as a percentage of a state's per capita income (which measures affordability for residents), the percentage of a student's financial need met by the school with all forms of financial aid, the percentage of that aide that is loans or work-study and the average amount a student borrows to graduate.

Bloomsburg is also listed among the leading public universities in the north by U.S. News and World Report. Those rankings are based on statistics collected from approximately 1,400 accredited colleges and universities.

For the second consecutive year, Bloomsburg has also been listed in The Student Guide to America's 100 Best College Buys.

Can you help us find these 'lost' alumni?

As the new year begins, it's time to start planning for class reunions for those classes who graduated in a year ending with "4" or "9."

The 50th year class and prior classes will have their reunions on Alumni Day, May 1, 1999, while the reunion classes from 1954 and later will meet on Homecoming, October 9, 1999.

JUDY WOLF '62 shares her reasons for remembering her alma mater

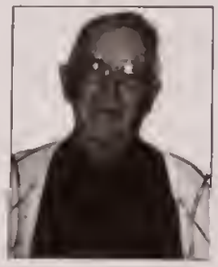
Life has been very good to me. A large measure of this goodness comes from the education I received at Bloomsburg and from my life experiences. I worked until 1965 as an itinerant speech and hearing therapist in Chester County, Pennsylvania, and in the East Bay area of San Francisco, California, until 1987. Since leaving education, I've been doing income tax preparation and real estate sales and loans, even though I consider myself to be semi-retired.

Now, I have an opportunity to give back to Bloomsburg University – with gratitude – for my good fortune.

When many of us reach our 50s and start thinking about retirement, we don't believe that financially we'll be ready. When asked to give money, we often doubt that we can afford to do that either.

The Deferred Gift Annuity Program is a wonderful way to accomplish both. You give Bloomsburg a contribution and, in return, the University funds an annuity for you (and one other person if you desire), and you can receive a tax deduction for the charitable donation portion of your gift.

As a matter of fact, gift annuities were so appealing to me that I talked to my dad about contributing to Bloomsburg in the form of an annuity. He liked the idea and signed up right after I did.



Eugene L. Wolf

This year, with the extra burden of a Roth IRA conversion, charitable giving – through annuities – is a way to reduce or eliminate that tax burden and provide for your retirement at the same time.

If you missed this opportunity for tax and retirement planning in 1998, I ask you to consider it during the 1999 tax year. Measure for measure, annuities are a very good deal for you ... and for Bloomsburg University.

Bloomsburg University Charitable Deferred Gift Annuity Program

A charitable Deferred Gift Annuity allows alumni and friends of Bloomsburg to make a gift to the university and retain an attractive rate of income for the lives of one or two beneficiaries. Benefits to donors include:

- fixed income for the lives of one or two beneficiaries
- a current income tax deduction
- capital gains tax savings if appreciated property is used to fund the gift
- a portion of the annuity is free of income tax
- low minimum gift of $10,000 per annuity
- choice of quarterly, semiannual, or annual payments

Sample Chart

for a $10,000 One-Life Charitable Deferred Gift Annuity Funded at Age 55*

years deferred	age at 1st payment	rate	deduction	annuity
5	60	8.4%	$4,047	$ 840
10	65	11.6%	$5,020	$1,160
15	70	16.4%	$6,000	$1,640

* Depending on the age at which the annuity is established, fluctuations in the Federal Discount Rate, and tax law at the time annuity payments are made, rates, deductions, and size of annuity payments will vary. Two-life, joint and survivor, deferred gift annuities are also available.

Veterans' Corner

By Dale A. Krothe '60
Chair, Veterans Committee

Miss Suzanne Curran is the 1998-1999 recipient of the $1,000 Bloomsburg University Veterans Memorial Scholarship. A senior social welfare major from Gouldsboro, Suzanne was also the recipient in 1997-1998.

Our Alumni Veterans Scholarship fund drive total to date has reached $3,500. Our goal is to make the scholarship truly self-sufficient with support from our alumni, veterans and those who make special gifts to the fund. We hope to raise $15,000 to perpetuate the scholarship.

Many thanks to those who have already designated gifts for the scholarship. We encourage all alumni to support this important effort. The form on this page can be used to send your donation. Also, any contribution of $50 or more to the 1999 Annual Fund Campaign may be designated to the fund of your choice. Any gifts will be greatly appreciated.

All Bloomsburg University veterans are encouraged to complete a biographical form so that their record of service can be placed on file at the Alumni House. Forms may be obtained by contacting the Alumni Office by telephone (800-526-0254) or by e-mail (alum@bloomu.edu).

On November 11, Veterans' Day, I was privileged to be invited to speak about life in the armed services to the sixth grade classes at Bloomsburg Middle School. It was a gratifying experience. Most encouraging were the bulletin boards, student projects, decorations and displays honoring our veterans. This student "thank you" to those who served our country was greatly appreciated.

In closing, I again encourage you to consider a donation to the Veterans Scholarship Fund, and if you are a veteran, don't forget to obtain, complete and send your bio form to the Alumni House.

Best wishes for a healthy and prosperous 1999!

On-line mentoring launched

Would you like to be an e-mail mentor to a Bloomsburg University student?

If you would like to share career information with a current student (or a fellow alum, for that matter), we invite you to register as an on-line mentor at the Alumni Website.

Students often have questions about courses to take, internship opportunities, or how to get started along a certain career path – and you may have some answers for them.

To register as a mentor, go to www.bloomu.edu, click on Alumni, then click on Mentor. In just a few minutes, you can make your expertise available to any of our students or alumni.

Nursing department to celebrate anniversary

In May the Department of Nursing will celebrate the 20th anniversary of its first graduating class. The 1979 graduates will be invited to attend the annual pinning ceremony, at which they will be recognized. Following the ceremony, they will join the faculty for a luncheon, to which former chairpersons and retired faculty will also be invited.

As a continuing celebration, all graduates of the program will be invited to participate in a mini conference and luncheon at Homecoming on October 9. They will be invited to present practice experiences, research and other scholarly activities in which they have been engaged since graduation.

Alumni will also have an opportunity to get reacquainted with each other during the afternoon's activities.

Annette Gunderman, a member of the first graduating class and an associate professor in the Department of Nursing, chairs the anniversary committee with members Dorette Welk and Fredda Massari-Novak.

More information about anniversary activities will be sent to alumni in March.

Garage sale raises money for books

Wyoming Valley Chapter of Bloomsburg alumni held their fifth annual garage sale on July 18, 1998, at the home of Nancy Dornheim Stahna '70. Proceeds from the fund raiser enabled the group to award two $100 book scholarships from the University Store.

Winners were selected by random drawing from among the new students in attendance at the combination Alumni Family Picnic and Freshmen Send Off at Kirby Park on August 12, 1998.

The winners were Maria Mikulski of Nanticoke Area High School and Lynn Mortimer of Pittston Area High School.

Faculty athletics rep plays key role

Dr. Sam Shike, professor of exceptionality programs, has been appointed faculty athletics representative for the university. He replaces Dr. Brian Johnson, who served in this position for the past nine years.

The faculty athletics representative works closely with the director of athletics, the vice president for student life and the president to provide significant leadership in the governance of the intercollegiate athletics program.

Shike will play a strategic role in facilitating institutional control of the athletic program and the academic integrity of the student-athlete experience.

On-line mentoring launched

Would you like to be an e-mail mentor to a Bloomsburg University student?

If you would like to share career information with a current student (or a fellow alum, for that matter), we invite you to register as an on-line mentor at the Alumni Website.

Students often have questions about courses to take, internship opportunities, or how to get started along a certain career path – and you may have some answers for them.

To register as a mentor, go to www.bloomu.edu, click on Alumni, then click on Mentor. In just a few minutes, you can make your expertise available to any of our students or alumni.

Can you help us find these 'lost' alumni?

Save a weekend in July or August for a trip to Bloomsburg for a very special reunion if you were on the staff anytime between 1960 and 1974.

Watch for a mailing with detailed information in February.

Reunion weekend activities may include:

* Meet and greet at Fenstemaker Alumni House
* Picnic at Savage's farm
* Tours of campus and the new Andruss Library
* Special library archives display
* Our own memory and memorabilia sharing
* Dinner and program at Russell's Restaurant in downtown Bloomsburg

Mark Schweiker recognized for his support

Lt. Governor Mark Schweiker (second from left) was honored on Alumni Day when the Exhibit Room of the new Harvey A. Andruss Library was named for him. Shown with Schweiker are Dr. Joseph Mowad, chair of the Council of Trustees; Dr. Jessica Kozloff, president of the University; and Dr. James H. McCormick, chancellor of the State System of Higher Education.

Mark S. Schweiker, Class of 1975, was sworn in as Pennsylvania's 28th lieutenant governor on January 17, 1995.

In his role as lieutenant governor, he was instrumental in securing the release of Commonwealth funds for the construction of the new Harvey A. Andruss Library at Bloomsburg University. In recognition of this support, the Bloomsburg University Alumni Association recommended to the Council of Trustees that the Exhibits Room in the new facility be named in Schweiker's honor. The Council of Trustees concurred, and a dedication ceremony on Alumni Day physically attached Mr. Schweiker's name to the Exhibits Room, located just inside the main entrance to the library.

A native of Bucks County, Mr. Schweiker was born in 1953, the son of John and Mary Schweiker. He graduated from Bishop Egan High School and earned a Bachelor of Science degree at Bloomsburg University. In 1983 he earned a master's degree in administration from Rider University. After college, he entered the business world and advanced to executive positions at Merrill Lynch, McGraw Hill and his own management consulting firm.

Mr. Schweiker's hands on, practical business experience has helped him to exercise strong fiscal stewardship in the public sector. He was first elected to public office in 1979 as Middletown Township Supervisor. After being elected a Bucks County commissioner in 1987, he committed himself to neighborhood safety, fiscal responsibility and organizational improvement in government.

Lt. Governor Schweiker is a trusted and valued partner of Governor Tom Ridge. Through an unprecedented partnership, the Ridge/Schweiker team has successfully redefined the Office of the Lieutenant Governor to encompass several new and innovative areas of substantive responsibility, putting the office to better use for all Pennsylvanians.

Mr. Schweiker's contributions have been recognized by a number of organizations, including Bloomsburg University Alumni Association, which named him a "Young Alumnus of the Year" in 1990. He has also been cited by the Pennsylvania branch of the Nature Conservancy for outstanding service to conservation (1993), the Technology Council of Central Pennsylvania with its "Technology Advocate of the Year" award (1996) and Citizens Against Government Waste with its "Outstanding Achievement Award for Putting Taxpayers First" (1997).

On the cover

Transformation of Centennial Gym to Centennial Hall is underway. The renovation will expand the size of the building by 70,000 square feet, with a new main entrance facing the campus. The 1939 building's historic façade overlooking Second Street will remain unchanged, and the elm tree at the northeast corner of the building will be kept. When complete in the fall of 2000, Centennial Hall will include a nursing-wellness center; seminar and computer classrooms; five large classrooms; and a 250-seat, theater-style lecture hall.

Lt. Governor Schweiker and his wife, Katherine, are parents of three children: Brett (ten), Eric (nine) and Kara (five).

Alumni who were students, faculty or staff members during the McCormick Years gather on stage as the McCormicks are honored.

McCormicks honored on Alumni Day

The Alumni Association presented Distinguished Service Awards to Dr. James H. McCormick and Dr. Maryan G. McCormick in recognition of their service to Bloomsburg University from 1973 to 1983, as well as their contributions to the State System of Higher Education from 1983 to present.

The dinner on May 1, 1999, was attended by many alumni who were on campus as students, faculty or staff during the ten-year McCormick presidency.

All smiles!

The Centennial Class of 1939, with a graduating class of 112, has always been an enthusiastic group. The 50th reunion in 1989 brought together 80 people (40 graduates) from all sections of the United States. It was a fantastic dinner and most pleasant occasion enjoyed by all who attended.

Having graduated with teaching degrees, most of our class stayed in the teaching profession. A few went into other areas. Honors have been awarded to Jim DeRose, Sterling Banta and many others for outstanding achievements.

The campus has a special place in the memories of the Centennial Class, although the only remnants of our college days are Carver Hall, Science Hall, Ben Franklin Hall and Navy Hall.

This year was no exception as far as reunion enthusiasm was concerned, although it was a limited number who were able to attend. They included James DeRose, Tirzah Coppes Leighow, Donnabelle Smith Smith, Isaiah (Ike) Bombuy, Harriet Kocher and Alex McKechnie. Many close friendships, established in college days, have continued to the present.

The following notes were secured by telephone from 39ers who were unable to attend the reunion:

Ruth Dugan Smeal was just recovering from her husband's death and did not feel up to attending the reunion. Her family has been most supportive.

Dot Englehart Zimmerman has moved to Springhouse Manor Care in Bethesda, Maryland. Her two daughters live in the area and a granddaughter just graduated from Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School, where her deceased husband, Ray, taught and served on the staff for many years.

Miriam Utt Frank is recovering from a bad fall suffered in November while visiting in California. She and her husband plan to move to the National Lutheran Home in Rockville, Maryland.

Ed Mulhern and his wife, Peg, are spending much of their time in Gaithersburg, Maryland. Ed is receiving treatments for a heart problem which is much improved. Their extended family is well and active.

Margaret Deppen lives in Trevorton. She does not do much traveling but is still interested in the whereabouts of friends and classmates. Her telephone number is 570-797-2325.

Sara Ellen Dersham Laubach is planning to see the Passion Play in Germany during its next performance year. She golfs and is active in church work.

Letha Hummel Kinley is housebound and unable to travel. She has a heart condition which does not allow her to drive her car. She may move to a nursing home at a future time.

Jean Shuman Zebner travels to see her children in Indiana and New York State. She still lives in her home on Fifth Street in Bloomsburg.

Anna Orner Guttendorf lives at the Leader Nursing Home, 1105 Perry Highway, Pittsburgh, PA 15237. She would love to hear from her friends and sends them her love.

John Bower makes "short" trips to Wisconsin Dells, Lancaster County and his Army reunion. His children are in Vancouver, B.C., New Jersey and Pittsburgh.

The first annual class reunion was held on Friday, April 30, at Willow Run Inn near Berwick. Following a 6 p.m. cash bar with hors d'oeuvre, an open menu dinner was served, complete with glowing candelahra and dinner music.

Alumni Director Doug Hippenstiel made a surprise visit and took photos of the attendees.

To celebrate 1998, our 55th reunion year, two prizes were given, one to the youngest attendee and the other to the person driving the oldest car that evening!

The attendees became a committee to plan future reunions, especially the forthcoming 60th reunion in 2003.

The reunions for 2000, 2001 and 2002 will again be held at Willow Run on the Friday evening before Alumni Day, the first Saturday in May. Andy Magill and Flossie Yeany will contact the Classes of 1945 and 1944 respectively to invite them to join us for future reunions.

Please note no further letters shall be mailed. To gain insight as to the annual reunion, please contact the Alumni Office at 800-526-0254 for details and up-to-date information.

A discussion followed at which time an outline for our 60th reunion was created. In January 2003, each 1943 graduate will receive (via the Alumni Office) the wishes of this committee as to the schedule of the plans for our 60th reunion.

Before we said "so-long," the group participated in a two-minute response to various timely topics; each was awarded a prize for his or her contribution to an extremely pleasant and fun evening.

Class of 1950 planning for 50th

The Class of 1950, having been notified that the next Bloomsburg University Alumni Day has been set for Saturday, May 6, 2000, immediately began planning for a Golden Celebration.

Joseph Curilla of State College has volunteered to serve as reunion coordinator.

Because the 1999 reunion of the Class of 1949 was so successful in combining the adjacent classes, the 1950 leadership decided to continue that philosophy by inviting the Classes of 1949 and 1951 to join them.

Willis Swales '50, having served as coordinator of reunion activities, has passed his ideas along to additional leadership so that the new millennium events will again insure the inclusion of times for learning and getting re-acquainted.

Class leadership has already met with staff of the Alumni Office to begin preparations for the year 2000. The schedule will be flexible enough to accommodate those who have disabilities, special diets or time constraints. For those who wish to visit, but cannot remain late into the evening, an afternoon session will be planned for the business meeting and the beginning of social contact.

Watch your mail for more information. And please feel free to share your ideas and express your interest by contacting Joe: 112 East South Hills Avenue, State College, PA 16801-6242.

Joan Bigelow '72 was highlighted in the December 1998 issue of the School Library Journal. The feature article was written by Walter Minkel.

"Joan Bigelow, a sixth grade English teacher at Avon (CT) Middle School, has been teaching Robert Louis Stevenson's Treasure Island for six years. This year, she turned her teaching unit into a web site, which I've selected as the SLJ On-Line Library Web Site of the Month. The site is an excellent example of how educators can use the web to enhance students' research and library skills.

"Bigelow was drawn to the web as an educational tool before she knew how to use it. She decided to teach herself, spending '100 hours of focused work' converting the Treasure Island unit into a web site. Now she's receiving formal HTLM instruction as part of her MLS program at Syracuse University in New York.

"The site includes a map of Treasure Island, sections on vocabulary and labeling the parts of a pirate ship, a guide to creating a personal 'Jolly Roger' pirate flag, and the 'Treasure Map Game: Clues to Riches or Death.' Bigelow has also posted her course notes and teaching schedule for the unit.

"Bigelow works closely with the school's library staff on the site's bibliography and selection of links. Students make especially good use of the site during 'research week,' when they visit the media center to explore 'pirational topics.'

"'Teachers from around the world have sent Bigelow rave reviews about the site and have requested more materials. Since the site has been launched in March 1998, it has logged more than 16,000 hits."

Lambda Chapter forming

The Lambda Chapter of the B.U.A.A. extends an invitation to all gay, lesbian, bisexual, and trans-gendered alumni (as well as their companions, faculty, or friends of B.U.) to join the organization.

Due to "technical difficulties" (read: the total loss of the mailing database), we are using this issue of the "Maroon & Gold" to reach out again to those who would like to become members (it's free!) in order to rebuild the mailing list.

The mailing list is used only to notify members of upcoming events. It is not used to solicit contributions or for any other purposes.

Although ideas are still being generated, tentative plans have been made to meet for dinner and socializing in Lancaster, Allentown, Bloomsburg (at Homecoming?), New Hope, Washington, D.C. and Philadelphia.

We would also like to extend a special invitation to all alumni to participate with us in the Philadelphia AIDS Walk on October 17th. A meeting place and time haven't been determined yet, but we hope to make an impressive showing.

If you are interested in being added to our database in order to learn more about these events, please become a member of the Lambda Chapter (again, it's free!) by contacting the Alumni Association at 800-526-0254. You may also call John Haney '85 at 717-293-1218 or send email to:

JLHaney63@aol.com.

Please provide us with your name, class year, and your preferred method of communication (postal mail, phone number, or e-mail). Updates on event dates and times can then be forwarded to you.

We would also welcome your suggestions for other activities and your participation in the leadership of the Lambda Chapter of the B.U.A.A.

Nominations sought for alumni awards

Do you know a Bloomsburg University graduate who deserves recognition?

The Alumni Association Board of Directors is seeking nominations for its Distinguished Service Awards and Young Alumni of the Year Awards that will be presented on Alumni Day on May 6, 2000.

Created in 1948, the Distinguished Service Awards recognize alumni for their professional accomplishments, their service to Bloomsburg University or the Alumni Association and/or contributions to humankind. (In 51 years, the Alumni Board of Directors has also recognized five non-graduates for their exceptional service to Bloomsburg: Dr. Francis B. Haas, Dr. Marguerite Kehr, Dr. Harvey A. Andruss Sr., Dr. James H. McCormick and Dr. Maryan McCormick.)

The Young Alumni of the Year Awards, established in 1985, similarly recognize individuals who have graduated within the past 25 years, using the same criteria as the DSA. In addition, these individuals should exhibit potential for greater achievements and/or service.

M&G staffers plan reunion

The first reunion of the Maroon & Gold student newspaper staff – from the "Savage Years" through the end of the M&G era – is planned for the weekend of August 13-15.

Between 1960 and 1974, the years Dick Savage was advisor and until the paper changed its name to the Campus Voice, 770 students worked for the M&G, some for several issues, many for several years.

If you were an M&G staffer, we hope you will attend at least one of the activities.

Plans include a "meet and greet" on Friday evening at the Benjamin Franklin Alumni House and tours of campus on Saturday morning.

On Saturday afternoon we will picnic at Dick Savage's farm – just like the picnics many of us remember, only this time it will be catered!

Mr. Savage retired in 1985 but continued teaching part time at the university for another five years. Since his second retirement, he has taught English as a second language as well as a writing class sponsored by the Area Agency on Aging. He also has had time for his first love – writing poetry. He is thrilled about the reunion plans and looks forward to seeing everyone.

On Saturday evening, we will have an opportunity to meet in small groups at our favorite Bloomsburg hangouts. On Sunday we hope to get a group together for Knoebels Groves Amusement Park.

Think of this M&G reunion as a chance to share some of your college memories with your whole family.

If this is the first time you're reading about this reunion, let us know of your interest in attending and receiving more information. Contact Dot Sachett at the Alumni Office by calling 800-526-0254 or by sending e-mail to dsachett@bloomu.edu.

If you already have the dates on your calendar, we hope you're getting in touch with fellow staffers to make plans to meet for some catching-up and reminiscing.

Huskies competitive during past year

By STEVEN YANKAY
Class of 2001

The 1998-1999 Bloomsburg University athletic year represented what most Husky athletic fans have come to expect. Bloomsburg was competitive in virtually all of its varsity sports and ended the year with many teams having reached postseason competition.

Football

As the 1998 fall season began, all eyes turned toward the Huskies football team to see how Bloomsburg would fare in the post-Irv Sigler era. The Huskies finished the season with a 5-6 overall record and a 4-2 mark in the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference (PSAC).

Bloomsburg opened the season in dismal fashion, winning two of their first seven games, but regrouped to post three consecutive conference wins in the final month of the season before dropping their season finale at Edinboro.

A talented core of young Huskies stepped into the limelight this season, spearheaded by freshman tailback Arrastene Henry. He rushed for 894 yards and five touchdowns in his rookie season and averaged 99 yards per game.

The Huskies defense was bolstered by the addition of several transfer players, including Chris Orlando and Chad Ritchie. Orlando led the team in tackles and interceptions while Richie picked off three passes to form a strong secondary with Orlando.

Bloomsburg senior offensive guard Tim Baer garnered many postseason awards, including first team selections in the PSAC, a Daktronics Division II All-Northeast Region selection and a Football Gazette first team nomination.

Field Hockey

The field hockey team continued its dominance of Division II field hockey by winning their third consecutive national championship. The Huskies finished their season with a 21-1 overall record and a perfect 8-0 mark in the PSAC. Bloomsburg's only defeat came in a 2-1 loss in the PSAC championship game.

Head coach Jan Hutchinson was named the PSAC and National Field Hockey Coaches Association's Coach of the Year and junior Jess Kircher garnered PSAC Player of the Year honors.

Women's Soccer

In women's soccer, Bloomsburg posted a 16-1-4 overall record and an 8-0-2 PSAC mark en route to their first PSAC championship. The Huskies defeated East Stroudsburg 1-0 in the title game and qualified for the NCAA playoffs.

Sandy Dickson was named the Northeast Coach of the Year in her first year at the helm for Bloomsburg while freshman Alea Balthaser was named the PSAC Rookie and Player of the Year.

Men's Soccer

The men's soccer team finished the season at 9-9 overall and 3-5 in the PSAC while posting several outstanding individual accomplishments. Senior Neil Stoddart captured the school record for points and assists in his career with 159 and 35, respectively, while falling one goal short of the record for career goals.

Also, the 1998 season marked the final season for head coach John O'Leary who retired after six seasons at Bloomsburg. He will be replaced by former University of Scranton head coach Paul Payne.

Women's Tennis

The women's tennis team split the 1998 PSAC title with Millersville while posting a 20-3 record through the fall '98 and the spring '99 seasons. Danielle Faretta was named the Athlete of the Year in the PSAC after winning the number one singles championship, while freshman Heather Miller was named the Rookie of the Year. Miller was also named the ITA East Region Player to Watch.

Cross Country

The men's and women's cross country teams finished seventh and sixth, respectively, in the PSAC championships as Suzanne Baum and Kip Hoffman posted the top finishes for the Huskies. In the NCAA Regional meet the women took 16th while the men finished 15th.

Men's Basketball

The men's basketball team opened the season against California (PA), three months later it would end its season against California (PA) in the PSAC championship game. The Huskies finished with a 21-8 overall record, an 11-1 PSAC mark and their second consecutive PSAC East title.

Seniors Jeff Benson and Tom Hauer each scored their 1,000th career points this season, while Benson was named the PSAC East Player of the Year. Also, head coach Charlie Chronister earned his 500th career victory versus East Stroudsburg, February 13.

Women's Basketball

The women's basketball team ended their season with a 21-6 record and an 11-1 PSAC East mark. Seniors Holly Curnow and Christie Berry scored their 1,000th career points in a 93-42 win over Georgian Court, January 12, while Michele Ruzicka scored her 1,000th career point earlier in the season. After a strong showing in the NCAA playoffs in 1997-98, the Huskies postseason hopes were cut short by a 61-59 loss in the first round of the PSAC tournament.

Wrestling

In wrestling, the Huskies sent three representatives to the NCAA championships in Russell Witt, George Carter and Brett Tullo. After sitting out a redshirt season, Tullo responded with a 21-7 dual match record while Carter, a freshman, finished with a 26-7 record.

Overall Bloomsburg compiled a 7-6-1 record and finished with a 1-5-1 record in the Eastern Wrestling League.

Swimming

In men's and women's swimming, the Huskies' women's team finished third at the PSAC Championships while the men placed eighth.

The women's team placed several swimmers in the NCAA Championships where the Huskies finished 10th. The Huskies' 800 freestyle relay team of Janine DiSalvatore, Nicole Zienkewicz, Kathleen O'Dell and Amy Krier earned All American status as did the 400 freestyle and medley relay teams of Krier, DiSalvatore, Brittany Sneberger and Brie Clapp.

Clapp, Sneberger, O'Dell and Wendy Walbert were also named All-Americans for their finishes in the 200 medley relay.

Softball

In the spring season, the Bloomsburg softball team had high expectations with a solid core of seniors returning. The Huskies, however, were eliminated from the PSAC playoffs by California (PA). One week later they advanced to the finals of the NCAA Mid-Atlantic Regional Tournament where again they fell to California (PA). Bloomsburg finished the season with a 42-10 record and earned their 17th consecutive NCAA playoff berth.

The Huskies' Erica Miller was named the PSAC East Player of the Year for softball while Jan Hutchinson was named Coach of the Year. Also earning PSAC East First Team honors were seniors Marcie Hickey, Megan Hunsinger and Christie Kittle, along with Michele Dreistadt and Vanessa Sterner.

Baseball

The baseball team finished the season at 26-26 as senior Trevor Fetterman became the second Bloomsburg player to amass 200 or more hits in his career. Pitcher Chris Brown is poised to

Enrollment exceeded projection

Once again, spring enrollment exceeded the enrollment projection used to develop the university budget. Total full-time equivalent enrollment for the spring semester was 6,293 – above the budgeted 6,230.

Though the enrollment figure exceeded the budget projections, it was still below the 1998 spring enrollment of 6,355.

"Over the past several years, we've seen increases in both the number and quality of students enrolling," said Dr. Tom Cooper, assistant vice president for academic affairs. "This year, in both our fall and spring semesters, we worked to stabilize the number of students enrolled and to focus on the quality of those students."

Academic performance indicators for freshmen have steadily increased over the past three years. The average SAT score for regular freshmen has gone from 1029 in 1996 to 1045 in 1998, the percentage of students in the top fifth of their class has increased from 25.2 percent to 32.5 percent over the same time period.

The university's other enrollment goals include improving our already strong retention record and increasing our graduate enrollment.

Better-than-anticipated retention of existing students was one reason spring enrollment exceeded the budget figure; 41 more students returned to campus this past spring than were expected.

John Trathen retires after 30 years

By DOR REMSEN SACHETTI '71 & '73
Staff Writer

"I have high regard for Bloomsburg; everyone here takes pride in what they do," says John Trathen. And those who know him say the exact same thing about John!

John J. Trathen '68 and '71 retired as director of student activities on June 30. Few people at BU have been known to so many. His work in student activities, punctuated by his positive leadership style and teasing sense of humor, has energized students, staff and the university for 30 years.

"When I think of John, I think 'Mr. Bloomsburg.' Some even say his blood flows maroon and gold," says Jack Mulka '66, who has worked with Trathen since 1968.

"Working along side John for many years in student activities, I know him as a man of high principles, someone you can totally trust, someone you can totally depend on. His time management and accounting skills are top notch," says Jack, "and his pride in this university is recognized by everyone."

JOHN FOUND HIS WAY to Bloomsburg first as a student. He and his wife, Peg, both grew up in Hazleton and had good jobs there, she with PP&L, he at a bank and later with Dorr-Oliver, a company that assembles filters.

John also took night courses at Wilkes University, working toward a degree in accounting. In 1965, as newlyweds looking to the future, the Trathens chose to move to Bloomsburg so John could attend school full-time. He changed his major from accounting to business education, confident he would receive a solid education at low cost. While attending classes, John worked in the student bank; Peg got a job at Milco.

The summer before graduation, John received a phone call that changed life for the Trathens. They had planned to move to Maryland and get jobs in Washington, DC, like close BSC friends of theirs. They had even bought a car. But Horace Williams, comptroller for student activities, was calling to ask John to stop in his office after class.

"Horace explained that he planned to retire in a year. He wanted me to become his assistant when I graduated in January and take over for him as comptroller in six months. He said I could also work part-time in the fall while I was still a student," John says. "After carefully considering the decision with Peg, I accepted the position."

JOHN'S ON-THE-JOB EDUCATION began shortly. He learned about student activities operations by sweeping floors, cleaning tables, running the cash register and stocking shelves. You might say he learned from the floor – or bottom shelf – up!

Later, as comptroller and therefore supervisor of bookstore, snack bar and student bank business operations, John made good use of this background as he managed the areas day-to-day and made gradual improvements.

"When they talked about making a sandwich, I had made that sandwich!"

John has always made it a point to know the jobs and workers well, even as the office of Student Activities grew to encompass more and more. Up through the 1960s, student activities meant what was happening in and around Husky Lounge.

Today, it involves more than the sales of snacks and school supplies or the showing of a feature-length movie. John's responsibilities have grown over the years to include the Kehr Union and the student recreation center. He also added to his professional credentials by earning a doctorate in higher education/public administration at Penn State.

John says one thing that hasn't changed during his 30 years is the kind of students who come to Bloomsburg.

"The times have changed and the types of fun kids have is a little different, but we still always have a nice group of students."

Part of the enjoyment of his job has been working with students on the Community Government Association (CGA) and other organizations he has advised. His reward has been watching them learn in the co-curricular experiences that student activities provides.

"The students really have a lot of responsibility. They're dealing with large operations and they need to watch expenditures. But they're learning skills outside the classroom that they will take with them to careers after graduation," says John.

And each year students graduate and a new group comes in.

"You have to build your credibility with each new group, helping them learn to trust you. You know, administrators are in some ways 'suspect,'" he grins. "You just have to know when to open your mouth and when it keep it shut."

In 30 years, John has worked with scores of university staff members as well. He speaks with admiration of the skills and work ethic of the custodial and maintenance staffs. Things have changed in these areas, too, according to John.

In the past, something like a leaky pipe meant a phone call, a request and a job well done. Today, there is a procedure, a schedule, a work order – and probably communication by computer in there somewhere. But it all ends with the same job well done.

John has been part of three major building projects during his tenure. Kehr Union was built in 1973. In 1993, its remodeling included an extensive addition. The recreation center was completed in 1995. Under development today are intramural fields on the upper campus.

"We've always prided ourselves on the fact that our facilities are well maintained," says John. "Our policy has always been that if you give students something nice, they will take care of it, and they always have."

There's that two-way pride again!

John was recently honored as the second recipient of the Suzanne S. Brown Distinguished Service Award by the State System of Higher Education. It's awarded to a professional student affairs staff member who has demonstrated creative actions or provided noteworthy service to his institution or the system. John added this honor to two others received this year – the CGA Award for Exemplary Service and the Extraordinary Advisor Award.

In addition to filling several interim administrative posts, John has chaired and worked on many university projects and committees through the years. Most noteworthy may be his work with the bloodmobile drive since 1976.

He has authored numerous articles for professional publications and has acted as consultant to other universities in the State System.

John has served as treasurer of the BU Alumni Association since 1980 and was chairman of the Annual Fund Campaign in 1996. This year, he

Chairperson
Alumni Veterans Committee

Congratulations to Eileen Albertson Chapman '67, Colonel USMC Retired, on her assuming the presidency of the Bloomsburg University Alumni Association. She is also a member of our Veterans Committee.

Another USMC veteran, William Derrlett '66 of Allentown, has accepted a two year term on the Alumni Association Board of Directors.

We wish both much success and thank them for their commitment of service to the University.

Our alumni have contributed almost $8,000 to the Veterans Memorial Scholarship Fund. This represents about 53 percent of our $15,000 goal needed to make the fund perpetual. As the fund drive is begins its second year, we urge all alumni to consider a gift to this worthwhile project. Thanks to all who have thus far supported the fund drive.

Progress has been slow but sure on moving the World War I monument to the grounds of the Fensternaker Alumni House. It is not a question of "if" but "when" the move will take place. A project request has been submitted to the Planning/Construction Department. Input on site design specifications will be finalized through our Veterans Committee and university officials.

The number of veterans who have returned biographical forms is growing, but there are many who have yet to take the time to obtain and return a form. Please contact the Alumni Office at 800 526 0254 and a form will be sent to you.

Of note to service members and government civilian employees. "Cold War (2 September 1945 to 26 December 1991) Recognition Certificates" signed by Secretary of Defense William S. Cohen will be awarded. Qualified military and civilian personnel can now access the Internet address http://sdcw.army.mil/coldwar for information on how to receive the award.

chaired the university's United Way/SECA campaign, setting records for both the number of participants and dollars raised.

His service is by no means limited to campus. John is active in a dozen community organizations including the Red Cross and Columbia/Montour Area Agency on Aging. He is very active in the Catawissa United Methodist Church and is a certified lay speaker.

John's wife, Peg, is currently fiscal assistant in the university's Development Office. They are parents of two grown sons, Don and Dave, and grandparents of Jacob, 2½ years, Dave's son.

John will return to campus on an emergency basis during the fall semester while the search for a new director is completed.

PROTECTOR OF PEEPS – During the height of "peep season" this spring, Bloomsburg Middle School science teacher Jeff Prosseda '70 and his passion for marshmallow Easter chick treats was featured in a Press-Enterprise newspaper story. It seems Prosseda was the target of several teacher gags – hangings, amputations and drownings of his favorite confection. When peep migration begins each year, Jeff eats as well as stockpiles boxes of the squishy yellow fellows. This year crimes against peeps by fellow teachers was at an all-time high. Although this ruffled Jeff" feathers, he felt that students benefitted by seeing the human side of their teachers. After the illegal activity died down, peeps were sighted on the birdfeeder outside the science room, part of a Cornell University bird watch study in which seventh graders are involved. "It was an authentic sighting and we did enter it on our species list ... I don't know what Cornell will think," Jeff said. (Press-Enterprise photo by Bill Hughes)

Family

Kathryn Reese Creasy, who was a computer operator at the university for 18 years before retiring in 1986, died on January 24, 1999, at age 73.

She was the widow of Doyle Creasy, who died in 1982.

Surviving are two sons, David and Scott, four grandchildren, two sisters and a brother.

Linda C. Graboski, well-known employee in the Community Activities office for many years, and Wayne L. Kashner were married in Catawissa on November 28, 1998.

Her son, Brian Grahoski '97, escorted her to the altar.

Egerton O. Osunde, an assistant professor in the Department of Curriculum and Foundations since August 1991, died on April 6, 1999, at age 48.

A native of Nigeria, he taught in that country for many years. He earned a doctorate at Ohio State University in 1984.

His areas of educational expertise were in social studies education, multicultural education, global education, comparative education, curriculum and instruction, educational foundations and teacher education.

Surviving are his wife, Awawu Yesufu Osunde; two daughters, Ifueko and Ayi; four sons, Isoken, Uyi, Osagie and Osayi; and a sister.

The University lost a good friend on June 17, 1999, when Louis D. Muehlhof died at age 95.

He was the father of Marilyn Muehlhof, who retired in January after 34 years of service as executive secretary to eight presidents of Bloomsburg University.

Lou was a familiar and friendly face on campus over the years as he accompanied Marilyn to many cultural and athletic events.

We will miss you, Lou.

$3,000,125
A new milestone

"Truly, every gift counts! In early December, it became evident that topping the $3 million mark was within reach," said Anthony M. Ianiero, vice president for university advancement. "End-of-year giving, which brings inevitable surprises, pushed the 1998 total to $3,000,125; 65 percent over 1997's record. It was an amazing moment when the development staff was able to verify and announce this milestone."

The Bloomsburg University Community Government Association topped the list as the largest contributor with more than $970,000. New athletic recreational fields on the upper campus, renovation of the University Store, and construction of a climbing wall were made possible with this gift from students.

Contributing more than 25 percent of the total, BU alumni remain the backbone of Bloomsburg's fund-raising successes. Gifts from parents, friends, and employees represent nearly an additional quarter of the total. Donations from businesses, corporations, and private foundations comprise the remainder.

The largest gift-in-kind was four large, outdoor sculptures donated by Muriel M. Berman of Allentown. Also, Bloomsburg Carpet Industries provided new carpeting for Carver Hall offices. Gifts deferred for future use totaled $290,000.

Funds restricted by donors are typically designated for scholarships, the library, student-athlete scholarships, or specific projects. During the 1998-99 academic year, 591 students received scholarships and athletic grants totaling $712,882.

The Bloomsburg University Foundation designates the use of unrestricted funds. In 1998, the Foundation approved $32,065 for faculty and/or student projects. These activities range from speaker honorariums and student/faculty research support to funding for equipment. For example, economics students heard Nobel Laureate Lawrence Klein. An English professor and a senior English major co-presented a paper at the Joseph Conrad Society of America conference. Communication among graduate students was enhanced with the development of a newsletter and web site. Employees who work with or around hazardous materials received specialized training through an interactive computer video program. Faculty attended conferences – from Oswego, NY, to Bangkok, Thailand – to present their research papers and bring back new ideas and renewed enthusiasm to share with their students.

The Foundation also allocated funds for the Honors Program scholarships ($31,000) and faculty and staff development ($21,010). The Bloomsburg University Alumni Association received $105,655.

Muriel M. Berman of Allentown contributed four large outdoor sculptures to the university last year. At left is a marble column by Thomas Stomal, below is "King and Queen" by Stomal and Martha Enzmann. On the bottom are L-shaped benches by Peter Hida, and below left is a marble screen by Stomal. Mrs. Berman is a member of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education Board of Governors.

"The Bloomsburg University Foundation continues to support many faculty and staff programs, scholarships for both merit and need-based students, and alumni reunion activities," Ianiero added. "The support from alumni, private individuals, businesses, and corporations ensures that Bloomsburg University becomes the best it can be."

Traditions that Live Forever

Have you ever had a desire to support the traditions of a Bloomsburg University education?

Whether your fortune be small or large, we can help you to fulfill this desire.

Many individuals, who have already provided for Bloomsburg's future with a charitable bequest, annuity, trust, or deferred gift, are members of The Bloomsburg University Foundation's Legacy Society.

If you have made future plans for Bloomsburg and would like to be recognized as a member of the Legacy Society, or if you have questions about how to establish your own tradition at Bloomsburg, please contact the Development Office at 800-526-0254, extension 4525.

The result may be an immeasurable legacy!

Getting the grand tour
Carol Barnett, director of career development, gives T. Clark and Joan Corson a tour of what will be the new Student Services Center (now housing the University Store). The Corsons have pledged $50,000 towards the renovation of the building, which will bring together offices of admissions, financial aid, registrar, academic internships and career development, among others. The Corsons have been longtime supporters of the university, contributing to the library campaign, Mitrani Hall seat campaign and numerous scholarships. Joan Corson is a former member of the Bloomsburg University Foundation Board.

HAS EXPRESSED HIS CONFIDENCE IN THE WORK OF BLOOMSBURG UNIVERSITY WITH A CHARITABLE REMAINDER UNITRUST

Are you feeling a warm spot in your heart for Bloomsburg? Would you like to participate today in building Bloomsburg's tomorrow?

If your response is YES to either of these questions, we can help you achieve your personal objectives for the future while providing for generations of Bloomsburg students.

Charitable Remainder Unitrusts provide income for the lifetime of one or more beneficiaries, or for a term of 20 years or less. When payments are finished, the trust's assets are transferred to one or more charities. The income paid is equal to a fixed percentage of the trust assets. Evaluated annually, the income paid must be at least five percent of the trust assets. Unitrusts offer an immediate income tax deduction and the avoidance of capital gains.

Variations of a one-life, Charitable Remainder Unitrust appear below. (Many factors that determine the charitable deduction and the first and subsequent years' income include: age of the donor/beneficiaries when the unitrust is established, when payments begin; the amount donated to establish the unitrust, the cost basis for the amount donated, annual growth/decline of the unitrust principle; and the payout rate.)

Sample Chart

$50,000 One-Life Charitable Remainder Unitrust funded at age 72

principle donated	cost basis	payout rate	charitable deduction	first-year income
$75,000	$50,000	6%	$39,743	$4,500
$75,000	$50,000	5%	$43,780	$3,750
$50,000	$50,000	6%	$26,495	$3,000
$50,000	$50,000	5%	$29,187	$2,500

Building on a legacy

Alumni Phonathon Success

The 1999 Alumni Phonathon was noteworthy, raising $186,111. The 45 paid university student callers exceeded the $167,000 goal by $19,111.

Student supervisor Miki Smith '00, helped coordinate the most successful Bloomsburg alumni phonathon campaign to date.

This was Smith's fourth phonathon (two as a student caller and two as a supervisor). Of the 9,000 calls that were completed, 3,634 alumni made pledges. "We were hoping to get 3,000 pledges for this campaign which was 500 more than 1998," says Smith. "Obviously we were quite amazed at the final total."

Senior Class Gift Largest Ever

The class of 1999 has pledged over $25,300 toward the renovation of the Student Services Center (the former Andruss Library). Senior class president Lena McGinley and vice president Brian Wedvedon were the key reasons for the success. They were able to communicate their enthusiasm to other class members and gained commitments of $150 from 169 graduating seniors. This year's seniors raised $7,000 more than the previous year.

Getting Ready to Play
The new recreational athletic fields on the upper campus are beginning to take shape where a rolling field used to be. Construction of the field was funded through the Community Government Association. After seeding and installation of lights this fall, the fields are expected to be ready for use by spring 2000. Shown from left are former CGA president Shelley Levan and David Pearson, director of the Student Recreation Center, who will administer the fields.

Powering the Student Services Center
PP&L is once again helping power projects on campus. The company has pledged $25,000 toward the renovation of the Student Services Center (shown in the background). This pledge is just the latest example of a long history of support for Bloomsburg from PP&L, including contributions to the Celebrity Artist Series and the construction of the new Andruss Library where this photo was taken. Shown from left are: Rod Keller, PP&L director of community development for Columbia, Montour and Lower Luzerne counties; Sandy Taylor and Ken Schnure of the registrar's office, which will be located in the new Student Services Center.

Bloomsburg alumni and friends who hold the MBNA Bank – Bloomsburg University VISA credit card which has an expiration date of 2000 may experience problems using their cards.

MBNA has addressed all computer concerns with the year 2000. However, not all businesses may be prepared to accept these cards without problems.

Faust Lectures Established

Eleanor Sharadin Faust, Class of 1938, bequeathed $101,000 to Bloomsburg University to create a lecture endowment for the nursing department to bring distinguished nursing professionals to campus.

After graduating from Bloomsburg, Mrs. Faust continued her education at the Danville State Hospital Nursing School from which she was graduated in 1941. She was employed as a nursing arts instructor at Sellersville Hospital, Coatesville Hospital, and the Wilkes Barre General Hospital before becoming directress of nursing for Lamerton Village. She was residing in Selinsgrove at the time of her death this past January.

Husky Club Auction

The Husky Club Board of Advisors hosted the 13th annual Husky Club Auction and Dinner Dance April 23 at Magee's Main Street Inn, 24 West Ballroom. DJ Joey "Z" provided entertainment. Approximately 150 guests attended the popular event and bid on more than 200 items during the silent auction. A "live" auction was conducted by local auctioneer Don Hock, retired BU director of budget and administrative services. More than $15,000 was raised to benefit athletic scholarships. This year's auction was dedicated to the memory of Bob Yeager, a faithful friend of Bloomsburg University's athletic program and longtime Husky Club Board member who passed away April 8, 1999.

Foundations Continue PRIDE support

AMP, Inc., The Whitaker Foundation, and The Franklin H. and Ruth Wells Foundation, for the eighth, third, and second consecutive years respectfully, have demonstrated unwavering commitment to the PRIDE (Personal Responsibility in Developing Excellence) Program.

PRIDE is a collaborative program between the Harrisburg School District, the State System of Higher Education, Bloomsburg University, and foundations, businesses, and industries in the Harrisburg area. The primary beneficiaries of PRIDE are urban, poverty-level children at high risk of dropping out of the educational system. PRIDE helps youngsters identify many of the possibilities that exist for them in the world. The program gives them a reason to stay in school, and upon graduating, continue to college or other post-high school educational opportunities.

PRIDE accepted its first students in 1992 and now enrolls approximately 150 students. Each summer, grades seven through eleven come to the BU campus for week-long sessions devoted to classroom activities, field trips, career planning, and recreation. PRIDE also conducts a Saturday program that runs throughout the academic year. BU education majors are the primary facilitators of the Saturday program. They learn much about working with urban youth while receiving credit for this field-studies experience.

"It's been a real eye-opening experience for our teachers-in-training," said Adrianne Flack, director of Bloomsburg's precollegiate programs. "Student response to this aspect of their urban experience class has been extremely positive. This weekend opportunity certainly helps us produce better trained and educated teachers. PRIDE students, clearly, benefit as well."

Nearly 100 percent of the students have graduated from high school or passed the GED. Approximately two-thirds have pursued post-secondary education and are averaging a 55 percent rate of retention.

New Scholarships

"Tony the Baker" Scholarship—ARAMARK, the campus food service vendor, created this scholarship in honor of Dominic "Tony the Baker" Cusatis, a familiar friend in the cafeteria, who served students for 39 years.

Davis Family Scholarship—These annual scholarships will support students of color majoring in computer and information systems in the College of Business.

First Federal Bank—This endowed scholarship given by First Federal Bank will be awarded to a student who resides in either Carbon, Columbia, Luzerne, Monroe, Montour, or Schuylkill counties.

Joseph J. Mowad Scholarship—Given by the Degenstein Foundation of Sunbury in honor of Joseph J. Mowad, MD, current chairperson of the Bloomsburg University Council of Trustees, this endowed scholarship will benefit students from Northumberland, Snyder, and Union counties.

Richard Grimes Memorial Scholarship—A member of the Class of 1949, this scholarship was established by BU alumni, family, and friends to recognize his long-tenured relationship with the alumni association. In the 1980s, the BU Alumni Association created the "Burley" Grimes Loyalty Awards in his honor for alumni who attend annually an alumni regional event, return to campus for either Alumni Weekend or Homecoming, and contribute to either the Alumni Association or the BU Foundation. Grimes, himself, never missed an Alumni Day and was absent from only two Homecomings.

New Scholarships

Margaret McCern Memorial Scholarship—Ms. McCern was a faculty member from 1954 to 1976 in the business education department. This scholarship for students in the College of Business, with first preference given to graduates of Southern Columbia High School, is made possible by a bequest from Richard Sands

Marilyn L. Muehlhof Scholarship—Friends established this endowed scholarship in honor of Marilyn's 33 years of employment at Bloomsburg where she served eight of the university's presidents

Penn State Geisinger Foundation Award—An anonymous donor of an endowed scholarship for students enrolled in the former Geisinger Medical Center nursing program has directed the annual interest be distributed to Bloomsburg University nursing students.

B. J. Rost—Family and friends established this endowed scholarship for students on the lacrosse team. Rost was a member of the health, physical education, and athletics department from 1971 to 1982. During her tenure, she initiated the women's lacrosse program and served as its first coach

Roger Snyder Memorial Athletic Scholarship—WLYN '35 Hazleton and friends of Roger Snyder are providing this annual scholarship for an incoming freshman athlete from the Hazleton area. Snyder served the Hazleton area as a basketball and baseball official for the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association and was a high school sports broadcaster for WYLN TV. Funds are raised through an annual basketball tournament

Golfers remember John Devlin

The John Devlin Memorial Scholarship Fund is richer, thanks to the many friends of the football coach who attended the first annual celebrity golf tournament and auction held in his memory this past June. In addition to the many family and friends of Devlin, who was the Huskies' defensive coordinator, the event was attended by dozens of NFL football celebrities, including: Jake "the Snake" Plummer, Rob Moore, Larry Centers and Eric Swann of the Arizona Cardinals, Kent Graham of the New York Giants, Lomas Brown of the Cleveland Browns, and Jerry Gratta of the Philadelphia Eagles. Proceeds from the tournament and auction totaled more than $30,000, which will be used to support football scholarships. The late John Devlin is shown above, with the assembled golfers at left. Below, from left are: Michael Devlin making a drive, President Jessica Kozloff with Jake Plummer, her son, Kyle, and grandchild, Cameron, and Plummer signing autographs for two young fans.

We succeed because we work as a team

By DOUG HIPPENSTIEL '68
Executive Director

The alumni programs and services offered to you are a result of "teamwork."

Who are the members of the team? The Alumni Association, the University, the Bloomsburg University Foundation and – most important – our alumni.

As you might expect, each team member contributes something. By pooling our financial and human resources, we are able to offer more alumni programs and services than any single team member could do alone.

To describe how this team functions, I think it would be helpful to answer some questions that I hear frequently when talking to alumni.

What is the Alumni Association?

It is all of us who have earned at least 24 credits at Bloomsburg University – more than 44,000 living and working in all 50 states and more than two dozen other countries. The Association has been a separately incorporated organization since 1933, with a 24-member Board of Directors.

Through this Association, we are able to maintain friendships from our Bloomsburg years, to keep informed about a special place in our lives and to carry on the tradition of making Bloomsburg University a special place for current students and future generations.

What programs and services are provided?

The Association communicates with Bloomsburg alumni through the publication of The Maroon & Gold that features Husky Notes about alumni and news about the University. The Association also plans and subsidizes an ambitious schedule of regional events, including annual family picnics, as well as traditional on-campus events such as Alumni Weekend and Homecoming.

In addition, the Association participates in student recruitment, scholarships and other programs for current students. The Association also sponsors the annual Senior Send-off Picnic. The Association's financial commitment to these programs and services is currently $110,000 a year.

What is the BU Foundation?

This incorporated organization solicits and receives funds to help support various university programs. Scholarships for students, faculty development, student research and classroom equipment are major areas that receive Foundation funding. The Foundation also conducts the Annual Fund campaign and, as a result, is able to contribute more than $100,000 annually to the Alumni Association for its programs and services. The Foundation Board of Directors includes alumni as well as business and civic leaders.

What is the University's commitment?

For nearly 25 years, the University has made a significant financial contribution to alumni programs, including the salaries and benefits of the director of alumni affairs and a full-time secretary. In addition, the University has provided office space, equipment, supplies, utilities, duplicating services and some postage.

The University has continued to provide this support during an era of increasing costs of public higher education and decreasing percentage of its budget coming from Commonwealth of Pennsylvania appropriations (currently less than 40 percent).

In other words, the University has not forgotten her alumni while focusing on keeping tuition and other costs as low as possible for our current students. But we must be willing to do more to help ourselves.

What is the role of alumni?

Clearly, the role of alumni is central. Without their attendance as students, the University would have long ago ceased to exist. Without their participation and support as alumni, the whole idea of an "association" would have failed.

Throughout the successful history of our Bloomsburg "team," alumni have provided their talents, their time and their financial support to record many "wins."

What does the future hold?

The Alumni Association would like to do more than the University or Foundation can afford to provide. For example, we would like to sponsor more affinity-based reunions and activities such as the M&G newspaper staff reunion in August and the Concert Choir alumni reunion in October. We would also like to develop and support additional regional alumni events.

But we need your help.

This fall you will receive a special appeal from the Alumni Association. All proceeds from this special appeal will supplement the current budget provided by the Foundation and the generous support of the University.

Your gift to this special appeal will help to enhance alumni programs and services, in part, by funding a new part-time position – coordinator of special projects – in the Alumni Office. This is the first new position since 1975, when alumni numbered less than half of today's total. For the past 10 years, our alumni body has been growing by more than 1,200 annually.

How much should I contribute?

Your Alumni Association Board of Directors has decided against a fixed dues program. Instead, the Alumni Board asks that you let your heart guide your decision to give. Gifts of any amount will be appreciated (and will qualify for tax-deduction purposes). If you would like, you may designate your gift "in honor of" or "in memory of" a special classmate or friend from Bloomsburg days.

We hope you will also continue to support the Annual Fund in early 2000 and/or the Annual Phonathon later in the spring. Our annual budget from the BU Foundation depends entirely upon those two campaigns.

All contributors will be named in the "1999 Honor Roll" which will be published in the July 2000 issue of The Maroon & Gold.

By adding your gift to those of classmates and friends, you will share the warm feeling that comes from "Remembering a Special Time in a Special Place."
